PROPUESTA A

UBER

Since its launch in 2012, Uber has become the most recognized alternative to traditional taxi cabs. As of September 2018, Uber is available in 633 cities around the world. Whether you're travelling to Seattle, Dubai, Tokyo, London, Paris, Montreal, or Chicago, you can expect Uber rides to be available in those cities and other major metro centres. Uber's success has spawned other, similar services such as Lyft, but Uber remains the most popular. In fact, Uber is so common that expressions like "getting an Uber" and "Ubering" in various languages have become widely understood.

Uber is not a taxi service, per se. Drivers cannot pick up riders off the street who are hailing cabs. Instead, Uber is a car-for-hire service that relies on smartphone tech to dispatch drivers and manage fees. Also, unlike taxi services, Uber drivers do not possess special licenses; rather, they use their personal vehicles to offer discounted-fare rides.

Uber's smartphone app takes care of the entire ride-hailing and payment process. You use your credit or debit card to pay right in the app, so you don't have to have cash available — although you can opt to pay in cash in some cities.

While rates vary by city and time of day, substantial public data shows that using Uber can cost 25 percent to 50 percent less than taking a local taxi cab. Bear in mind, however, that Uber does impose surge pricing for peak events like major sporting matches and New Year's Eve when ride fees can climb significantly for a few hours. As a rule, though, Uber rides are cheaper than taxi cabs.

In the United States you must be 18 years or older to have an Uber account and use the service. Moreover, drivers must be at least 21 years old, have at least one year of licensed driving experience, and drive an acceptable four-door vehicle.

WHY ARE YOUTUBE STARS POPULAR?

A Youtuber is a person who has his or her own channel in the Youtube website. British Youtuber Zoella has just reached the milestone of 10 million subscribers to her main YouTube channel, but she has a long way to go to catch its most popular creator PewDiePie, who is about to pass 42 million. They’re just two of the most prominent YouTube stars.

How have these YouTubers become so popular? It can seem surprising to people who don’t usually follow them. However, the top YouTube stars aren’t just popular: they are genuinely influential figures for their young fans. The magazine Variety has been confronting its readers with that fact since 2016. That year, it published a survey of 13-19 year-olds in the US asking about the celebrities that have a real influence in them. The survey showed that YouTubers were more influential than actors or musicians.

One of the key things to understand about the popularity of YouTubers is that they look like ordinary people and this is what makes them so appealing. Many YouTube stars base this sense of connection in the way they talk to their fans in videos. By necessity, an early YouTube video started out as a format with a person talking into a webcam, often close to the camera and filming in their bedroom. It created a sense of intimacy, and one that many YouTube stars have tried to maintain even as they got better cameras and equipment. But it even extends to the way how many of them address their audiences.

The key thing to understand about YouTube stars is that the content of their videos – whether it’s Let’s Play game commentaries, makeup tutorials or just their thoughts – is only one half of their appeal and the connection to their audiences is the other: they have grown up with the tools to create and strengthen that connection, and many will use that as their anchor to keep their feet on the ground.
